Triumphant Progress of the Visitors from Toulon to Paris.

Toulon, October 13 .- The Russian quadron arrived at the outer roads his morning. It was received in

THE RUSSIANS IN FRANCE.

nagnificent style. As soon as the visitors arrived in ort the French officials and the Russian Consul, with many distinguished officers of the army and navy, went on poard the Russian flagship, the Emperor Nicholas I, to welcome Admiral Avellan in the name of the French Government. The usual salutes were exchanged by the Russian ships and the forts and twenty-one guns by each ship of the French squadron, the latter having hoisted the flag of the Russian navy. On landing the Russian officers were welcomed by the Mayor of Toulon and the Toulon Town Council in the name of the town. The whole city is one gala affair. The Russian colors are conspicuous CASTLE & CO KE everywhere, on rosettes and other personal decorations, as well as in the > people bound to see and take part in the demonstration to the friends of France. The incoming trains from various quarters came in crowded with sightseers. The gathering populace greeted the visitors with enthusiastic shouts of bunting. The city is thronged with "Vive la Russie," coupled with "Vive la France." The stay of the visitors will be celeorated in one continual round of en-Oltertainments, and their capacity for absorbing wines and liquors and smoking cigars and cigarettes, not to mention matters of solid nourishment, will be taxed to the utmost. In the address of welcome Mayor Prospero Ferrero said that he represented all the departments of France and their desire to express the sympathy felt by France toward Russia, and to show that the hearts of all Frenchmen beat together and were animated by one feeling. Continuing the Mayor said: "Your visit cements the friendship between the two nations and proves the fidelity existing between

Later the Russian officers, surrounded by French officers, proceeded to the Maritime Prefecture to visit the Minister of Marine. The latter, in his speech of welcome to the Russian Admiral, said that he was deeply sensible of the honor of receiving the distinguished visitors on behalf of France. The Admiral in reply said that he was unable to express all that he felt at the cordiality of his reception, but he knew that the Russian people would be grateful for the welcome accorded his command. At the Mayoralty there was a similar cene of welcome. The crowd on the outside was wild with enthusiasm, and shouts of "Vive Russie" and "Vive le WILDER & CO., Czar" were constantly repeated. The president of the Paris Municioal Council waited upon Admiral Avelan and presented to him the invitation of the council for him and his officers to visit Paris. The Admiral said he vould have great pleasure in accepting the invitation in behalf of himself and he officers under his command. Admiral Avelan then proceeded to he balcony of the town hall, and stood here between the president of the Paris Municipality and the Mayor of Toulon, acknowledging the plaudits of the crowd below. Deputations presented addresses of welcome to the Admiral, and Mme. Adam, the well-known writer, in behalf of the ladies of France, presented to the Admiral a diamond brooch for his wife and various pieces of jewelry or the wives of his officers.

ngs with a polite compliment to Madame Adam and to the French wemen generally, and after renewed handhaking with the Mayor, returned to his ship. A banquet was given in honor of the visitors at the Maritime Prefecture this vening. When the toast to the Czar was proposed every glass was raised in nonor to Alexander III. No noteworthy incidents occurred luring the day.

Admiral Avelan received the offier-

Paris, Oct. 17.—This is a great day at the French capital. It is a general holiday, and from early dawn people began crowding in holiday attire in the streets, pouring in from the country and from other cities in special trains. The streets are almost embowered in decorations, in which the Russian and French colors commingle, as France hopes they may on that day when France's enemies appear opposed to her in battle array. Windows, balconies, housetops, even the chimneys of the houses along which the Russians are expected to pass, are all black with sightseers. Street hawkers are selling Russian flags, pennons, trinkets, medals, souvenirs, ballads and gaudy prints of the Russian royalties, Admiral Avellan, his officers and other emblems of the Russian visit, on every side, on the main streets and on the side streets throughout Paris. President Carnot and the Czar have been telegraphing to each other, Russians are walking arm in arm with Frenchmen, shaking hands, congratulating each other, and mixing with the crowds on the Place de l'Opera to see the decorations of the Military Club, Old Kona Coffee where the Russian officers will be lodged during their stay. At the clob mentioned a regular branch postoffice has been organized for the convenience of J. T. WATERHOUSE'S the guests.
